What we do

How does Brickyard Bank protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings. Brickyard Bank restricts access to information about you to those employees who need to know that information to provide products or services to you. We maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to protect this information.

How does Brickyard Bank collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- Open an account or deposit money
 - Pay your bills or apply for a loan
 - Use your credit or debit card
- We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- Sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes-information about your creditworthiness
 - Affiliates from using your information to market to you
 - Sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you
- State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. See below for more on your rights under state law.
