What we do

How does Great Lakes Credit Union protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

GLCU only partners with businesses that follow strict confidentiality requirements. We will not disclose information about accounts or transactions to outside parties unless there is appropriate legal or business justification.

How does Great Lakes Credit Union collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- Open an account
- Pay your bills
- Apply for a loan
- Show your government-issued ID
- Make deposits or withdrawals from your account

We also collect your personal information from others such as:

- Credit Bureaus
- Affiliates
- Other companies

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.
