FACTS

WHAT DOES HIBERNIA BANK DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What?

The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security number and income
- account balances and payment history
- credit history and credit scores

When you are no longer our customer, we continue to share your information as described in this notice.

How?

All financial companies need to share customers' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers' personal information; the reasons Hibernia Bank chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Other important information

CIP – Disclosure Statement

To help government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, Federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. What this means for you: When you open an account, we will ask for your name, address, date of birth, and other information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents. I/We understand that information I/We have given will be screened through EFunds, ATTUS Technologies Inc., and/or a credit bureau. I/We authorize the release of this information for that purpose. I/We also understand that all funds in this account will be frozen until all parties involved on this account have signed all supporting documents and supplied Hibernia Bank with proper identification.
