Who we are

Who is providing this notice?

Illinois Community Credit Union (ICCU)

What we do

How does ICCU protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

Access to your personal information is limited to employees with specific business reasons to access this data.

How does ICCU collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- Open an account or apply for a loan
- File an insurance claim or use your credit or debit card
- Give us your contact information

We also collect personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.

What happens when I limit sharing for an account I hold jointly with someone else?

Your choice will apply to everyone on the account.
