Who we are

Who is providing this notice?

The Bank of Washington

What we do

How does The Bank of Washington protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

How does The Bank of Washington collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you:

- Open an account or deposit money
- Pay your bills or apply for a loan
- Use your credit or debit card

We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only:

- > Sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes information about your credit worthiness
- Affiliates from using your information to market to you
- Sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.

Definitions

Affiliates: Companies related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- The Bank of Washington has no affiliates
- Nonaffiliates: Companies not related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.
- The Bank of Washington does not share with nonaffiliates so they can market to you

Joint marketing: A formal agreement between nonaffiliated financial companies that together market financial products or services to you.

• The Bank of Washington does not jointly market
