| Who is providing this notice? | West Central Bank |
| What We Do | |
| How does West Central Bank protect my personal information? | To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings. |

We limit access to information to those employees for whom access is appropriate.

How does West Central Bank collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- Open an account
- Apply for a loan
- Give us your contact information
- Show your government-issued ID
- Show your driver's license

We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes - information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. See below for more on your rights under state law.
