Wolf Point Federal Credit Union

FACTS What Does Wolf Point Federal Credit Union Do With Your Personal Information?

WHY? Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

WHAT? The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security number and account balances
- Overdraft history and credit history
- Payment history and wire transfer instructions

When you are no longer our member, we continue to share our information as described in this notice.

HOW? All financial companies need to share members' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their members' personal information; the reasons Wolf Point Federal Credit Union chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Keep your money NCUA-safe

NCUA protects your money in a federally insured credit union up to $250,000 per account.

What We Do

How does Wolf Point Federal Credit Union protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings. We also maintain other physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to protect this information and we limit access to information to those employees for whom access is appropriate.

How does Wolf Point Federal Credit Union collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you:

- Open an account or give us your contact information
- Pay us by check or give us your wage statements
- Show us your driver's license

We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only:

- Sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- Affiliates from using your information to market to you
- Sharing for non-affiliates to market to you

State law and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.
