Questions?

What we do
How does Woodsboro Bank protect my personal information?	To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings. Protecting your privacy is important and you can be assured that we will strive to provide the most current safeguards available to keep your personal financial information secure.
How does Woodsboro Bank collect my personal information?	We collect your personal information, for example, when you <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • open an account or apply for a loan • give us your income information or provide employment information • show your driver's license or use your debit card

we also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.
